Effects of Kissing.
(From the Chicago Times-Herald.)
Any Boston paper can stretch an inference into it cracks. One of them says that "it always pays to be polite. Many years ago, in the course of an electioneering trip, John Tyler took a boy in his arms and remarked: 'That's a bright little boy.' The recipient of the Presidential compliment is known today as Postmaster-General Gary." By searching the records we have discovered that another little boy who was kissed by President Tyler got the same occasion was lynched several years later for stealing a mole in Arkansas. Still, it always pays to be polite, anyway.

Yellow Journalism.
(From the Boston Globe.)
A dog that fell into a vat of yellow paint at a Central Falls (R. I.) tannery, and was fished out, has become completely tanned by the mixture. It's a sure case of yellow dog this time.

And Most of Them Have It.
(From the Boston Globe.)
One of the New York papers tells in detail what a woman needs to go to the Klondike region. What she needs more is common sense enough to make her stay at home.

Where Ladies Can Lunch.
Holan's new cafe is remarkably convenient for ladies shopping, adjoining, as it does, Bain's and Langbein's drygoods stores. A special ladies' lunch is served each day from 12 to 3 in the daintily appointed dining-room for 25 cents. It

WEDDINGS OF THE WEEK

Cupid Not Forgetful of His Town Engagements.

Several Interesting Ceremonies—Doings of Washington People at Home and Abroad.

Cupid presumably has his hands full at the thousand and one resorts, where his services are in multitudinous demand. That he still keeps a wide open eye on his town engagements, however, is evidenced by the number of weddings that have been solemnized in Washington this week.

Happily, each was a pretty church or home ceremony, without ostentatious display. There have been flowers and rice, wedding cake and ideal brides, but if the small good purses upon making a marriage record for August, the society chroniclers will find themselves unpacking their stock of adjectives, which have been laid by for full use, along with the diamond sunburst, the shower bouquet, and the bride who entered the church on the arm of her father—and for all this Dan Cupid will be to blame!

Gulton Memorial Church was the scene of a pretty midsummer wedding Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, when Miss Eva May Prasse and Mr. George Peddleton Conn were married by Rev. A. D. Moore, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. The bride attended by her brother, Mr. John L. Prasse, who gave her away, was preceded to the palm-embowered chancel by the bridesmaids, Misses B. Prasse, Robert Prasse, A. M. Huse and John Miller. Mr. George Rockwood, of New York, officiated as best man. The church was artistically arranged with palm foliage, intermingled with white carnations and scarlet gladioli, and the nuptial marches were rendered by Mr. James W. Chenevix, organist of the church.

The bride, who is an exceedingly pretty girl, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Prasse, and the sister of Mr. John L. Prasse, of Mount Pleasant. The groom is a well-known journalist, and one of the most popular young men in Washington's social world.

The bride was handsomely and becomingly gowned in a traveling dress of heliotrope cloth, trimmed with satin of a lighter tint and satin ribbons of the mingled shade. She wore a hat of white chip combined with white flowers and ribbons, and carried a huge bouquet of pink and cream roses tied with lace knots of cream moire. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Conn left for a honeymoon jaunt North that will include a trip to Boston by sea. Their future home will be in Philadelphia.

Mr. Joseph Ligon King, of Allen, S. C., and Miss David Welsh Norris, of Frederick county, Md., were married Tuesday at 5:30 o'clock at St. Patrick's Church, Rev. Dr. Stafford officiating.

The bride wore a stylish and most becoming traveling dress of blue cloth trimmed with point de Leon lace, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of golden roses. Miss Edith Chenevix, of Fairview, attended the bride, and Mr. J. S. Robinson, of Martinsburg, W. Va., served the groom as best man. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. King left for a honeymoon trip to Old Point Comfort, and upon their return will be at home to their friends at No. 917 I street northwest.

The groom is in the departmental service, and, like his bride, is popular in Washington society, where they have a large circle of friends, many of whom will be surprised to learn of the marriage, which was very quietly arranged, and solemnized in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Mahon, Mr. Charles Mahon, and Misses Fannie and Elizabeth Mahon, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Holmes, of Langdon, D. C.; Miss Marie Legare, of Charleston, S. C.; and Miss Louise Lamar, of Allen, S. C.

One of the prettiest of summer weddings was that of Miss Lillie B. Kelly and Mr. William T. George, of Pennsylvania, which was solemnized at St. Aloysius' Church, on Tuesday evening, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Colgan, S. J., assisted by Rev. Father Ryan, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and Rev. Father Dolan, S. J., of St. Aloysius.

The bride passed up the aisle on the arm of her brother, Mr. Julius Kelly, being preceded by the ushers, Mr. George Heibard, Mr. J. E. Kelly, Mr. Porter Cox, and Mr. J. Harry Davis.

Miss Nellie Kelly attended her sister Miss Regina Watkins, looking exquisitely dainty in blue silk and lace, officiated as flower bearer with dignity and grace. The altar was brilliantly illuminated and the wedding marches were rendered by Miss Katie Mahon.

The bride was beautifully robed in white satin, in train, and her veil was caught with a diamond sunburst, one of the gifts of the groom. Her bouquet was of white roses, tied with white satin ribbon. Miss Nellie Kelly was gowned in white mull and lace and carried La France roses tied with streamers of pink satin.

The ceremony was followed by a reception, from 7 to 10, at the bride's residence, No. 1139 Fifth street northwest, after which Mr. and Mrs. George left for a honeymoon trip to North that will include a visit to Niagara Falls and to the groom's home in Pennsylvania. Upon their return they will be pleased to see their friends at No. 24 Q street northwest, after September 5.

Miss Catherine Smith and Mr. William V. Tarrence were married at St. Stephen's Church, on July 28, by Rev. Father O'Connell. Mr. Charles B. Cammeron was best man and Miss Ella Cook attended the bride as maid of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Tarrence left immediately after the service to spend their honeymoon at Atlantic City.

A quiet but pretty marriage was solemnized at St. Stephen's on last Wednesday. The contracting parties being Miss Mollie G. Roberts and Mr. James F. McGilton. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Roberts, and Mr. Joseph Harvey was best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father O'Connell.

Miss Helena K. Weber, of No. 507 New Jersey avenue, is at Norfolk, Va., where she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Corpman.

St. Paul's Church, on Twenty-third street, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday last, the contracting pair being Miss Mabel Donaldson and Mr. Frederick Sillers, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred Harding, after which Mr. and Mrs. Sillers left for Atlantic City. Upon their return they will reside at No. 809 Twenty-first street. The bride was becomingly gowned in gray cloth, with hat to match, and was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

A quiet but pretty home wedding was that of Miss Grace Male Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moore, No. 725 Irving place, and Mr. William A. Shepherd. The service was solemnized by Rev. Mr. Livingston, of Hyattsville, under an arch formed by palm foliage and flowers, in the presence of the immediate relatives, among them being Mrs. Laura Shepherd, Mr. E. Q. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hulen, Mr. William A. Sheed, Miss Emma Sheed, Mr. and Mrs. Unger, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Sheed and daughter, Miss Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sheed, Mr. Will Sheed, Jr., Mr. Gorman Winslow, Mr. A. S. Merchant, Miss Kate Sheed, Mr. W. B. Lyda, Mr. M. M. Austin, and Mr. A. J. Held. Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd will be at home after September 1, at No. 1428 Sixth street northwest.

The Misses Grace Finney and Stella Barker have returned from their month's vacation in the Shimmecek Hills.

The Most Rev. Archbishop Keane is expected here about August 15. He will be a guest at St. Patrick's pastoral residence while staying in Washington.

Just as glittering and gorgeous as ever, Chang Yen Hoon, special ambassador to the Queen's Jubilee from China, returned to this country yesterday. This statesman, a kinsman of Li Hung Chang, spent a week in New York in May, previous to sailing for Europe to be present at the Jubilee. Now he is on his way home, arriving on the steamship St. Louis yesterday. He went to the Waldorf with his suite, which consists of sixteen secretaries and attaches and eight servants. Prominent in the suite are Lord Li, Li Hung Chang's nephew; Dr. Tsao, the physician; and H. Koo, who would be a big Chinese statesman if he was by himself. Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister at Washington, came here to meet his illustrious countryman. He was at the pier when the ship warped in, and greeted the special ambassador with great humility. The Chinese consul at New York was also on hand, and many other prominent Chinamen. The party went to the Waldorf in carriages and took the rooms that had been reserved for them. Chang Yen Hoon spent the evening resting. He expects to stay here ten days, and then will go to Montreal and on to Vancouver.

Rev. Father O'Connell, of St. Stephen's Church, has returned from a short visit to Oakland, Md., and Berkeley Springs.

Congressman R. C. De Graffenried of Texas, who is back in Washington after quite an extended trip, reports himself quite pleased with the scenic beauty of the Dominion, but thinks that the people, while kind and hospitable, are old-fashioned in nearly everything, and do not seem alive to the progress of the age. There is mingled with a feeling of jealousy and envy of the United States a sentiment of pride in our greatness that struck him as rather amusing. While 99 per cent of the Canadians want commercial reciprocity with this Government, he met none who believed in political union.

Senator Foraker is building a fine residence in Washington. P. L. Peltz, one of the original architects of the Congressional Library, has the plans in hand.

Omer D. Conger, of whom Speaker Reed recently wrote some reminiscences, and who was one of Michigan's greatest Representatives in Congress, is now living in obscurity in Washington. He is almost unknown, although ten or fifteen years ago his name was a household word all over the country.

Mrs. O'Hare and Miss Bessie O'Hare are at Atlantic City, where they expect to remain several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Van Winkle left recently for a pleasure trip to Canada, in the neighborhood of Georgian Bay. They will include Niagara and Toronto in their journey.

Mr. and Mrs. George Boston, of New York, who have been visiting Mrs. William Smith, the mother of Mrs. Beaton, at Cobb's Hotel, of this city, have returned home. They were accompanied by Miss Katie May Smith, who will visit the watering places of the North and return to Washington in the fall.

Mr. Arthur J. Welland has gone to visit his family, who are spending the summer at Miss Chamberlain's, Round Hill, Va.

Miss Sadie M. Major is visiting her friend, Miss Daisy Ryan, at Crofton, Md., for the month of August.

Lambert F. Bergman, assistant superintendent of the city delivery, and wife are spending the month of August at their cottage at Washington Grove.

The Hotel La Fontaine, Atlantic City, is lively with young people from Washington, who are seen daily on the beach in picturesque bathing suits, among whom are Miss Grace Cox, Miss Blanche Newman and Mr. Elmer Newman, accompanied by young Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wamaker, of Allen town, Pa.

Miss Mary C. Harbaugh, ex-assistant State librarian of Ohio, and recently acting librarian of the California, California, free library, is stopping at La Feta's, corner G and Eleventh streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Walker, of New York avenue, left yesterday for a short outing in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Among the Washingtonians arriving recently at Virginia Beach were Dr. William P. King, Miss J. M. Lewis, J. S. Robinson and wife, W. H. Linger, Mrs. Raeburn, Miss Raeburn, Miss Hollidge, Mr. Sibley, Mr. Sharp and wife, John G. Keene, Robert M. Blair, A. W. M. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler, Mr. Row, Dr. W. Meyer, A. F. Jones, E. R. Ford, W. Lehman, J. Berger, W. Berger, S. Deslo, F. Harwood, Tony McKnew, F. Behrens, George Burdick, C. Wedmiller, E. C. Reid and wife, G. Compton and wife, Mrs. Watts, Miss Crawford, Mr. Emery, Mr. Row, Dr. P. H. Graham, J. Hendricks and wife, Mrs. P. F. Boag and Frank Medham.

Jerome Bonaparte, of the American branch of the famous family, has been making excellent scores on the golf links at Jackson, N. H., where he is summing up with his mother. He is one of the most enthusiastic players and spends most of his time on the grounds.

At the first annual tournament held August 5, at Skyville, Md., Mrs. Bonaparte, of Washington, was crowned first maid of honor to the queen, by Mr. Grant Baseman.

Mr. E. L. Frazier and her young son are spending the summer at Falls Church, Va.

Mr. W. A. Linton with her children, Willie, Evelyn and Julia, are spending the summer at Warrenton, Va., where Mr. Linton will soon join them.

Miss Annie Biscoe, of Twenty-first street, has gone to Lake George after a visit to New York as the guest of her brother, Paymaster Biscoe, of the Navy.

Mr. Maurice Otterbeck and wife, accompanied by Miss Annie Prosperi, will make an extended tour to the North, visiting Nova Scotia, Yarmouth and Halifax.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Williams celebrated the anniversary of their silver wedding Thursday evening, at their home, on the BON MARCHE - 314-316 SEVENTH ST.

Ten-twent road. Supper was served on the piazza, which was prettily decorated with palms and hanging baskets and lighted with Japanese lanterns.

Among the guests who participated in the evening's enjoyment were Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Barclay and Mrs. T. H. Henson, of Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. John B. Carter, of Eckington; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Williams and Mr. Frank F. Williams, Miss Marian Fowler, Mrs. Louise Hamilton, Miss Maudie Gills, and Messrs. John Hartnett, James Anderson, and Thomas E. S. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Van Winkle, of this city, left Thursday for a short sojourn at Georgian Bay, Canada. They will stop off en route at Niagara and Toronto, Canada.

The G. H. Thomas Corps, No. 11, W. R. C., was Friday evening honored with a visit from the department president, Mrs. Georgia G. Bain, and her staff. A very pleasing address was made by the department president. Interesting remarks were made by each member of the staff.

Miss Lowry, a member of the W. R. C. in Belleville, Ill., who is visiting Washington, was present and spoke of the growth of the W. R. C. in Illinois. Three candidates were balloted for and two initiated.

Miss Mollie E. Davis is visiting relatives in Front Royal, Va.

Mrs. Florence M. Davis, who has been visiting relatives in Reliance, Va., will be returning to her home Friday, after an absence of a month.

Mrs. Julius Pech, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Fanny Pech, left for a three weeks' trip to visit New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Mrs. J. Robinson, and her son, Irvin Blout, have gone to Atlantic City.

As to Cheese.

The cable brings the heartrending intelligence that the world is threatened with the extinction of Roquefort cheese. The fact that this cheese can be extinguished at all will come in the nature of a surprise to many who considered it in visible, and the fact that its extinction is only a matter of a short while will strike terror to myriads of dieters. To those who do not know what this particular cheese is like, it may be necessary to explain the nature of the beast. It is made from the milk of a certain breed of French sheep, which feed upon the thyme found along the banks of the Lot, Tarn and other rivers of the department of Aveyron in France. After being made in the way usual for cheese, the Roquefort is put away and left to its own devices. When it has become old enough to vote under the suffrage laws of France it is placed in a grotto for the purpose of developing its strength.

It is served at the close of meals, together with the black coffee and a kind of round cracker, which you break with an ax the host provides for that purpose. An infinitesimal quantity will suffice, and the
